The west side of National City is affectional know by the resident who lived their as Old Town National City (OTNC). In the earlier 1900's OTNC was predominately where the Mexican American community resided. The Casa de Salud located at 14th and Harding Avenue in OTNC was the hub center for all activities in the community. A group of local residents from OTNC formed the Casa Men's Club. The group was formed to promote and provide services and events to enhance the community. Some of the events they held were community picnics, sports events, health fairs and Christmas giveaways to the children. All the meetings for the Casa Men's Club were held at the Casa De Salud.
